THERE'S REAL SECURITY IN OWNING YOUR OWN HOME

ARE you buying a home—for somebody else? Fifteen years from now will you relax in the secure knowledge that your strong box holds the deed to your home, or will it be the too-often story of just so many cancelled rent checks?

Wishful thinking is a lot of fun, but the thoughtful man who also puts a roof over his family's head is building for prestige and safeguarding against the proverbial doorstep wolf.

Disciplined saving is the watch word to owning your home today. It unlocks the doors to future security. The adage that it's not what you earn but what you save was never so modern, nor so vital.

Saving becomes a habit; a delightful one when it represents the one bulwark against suffering and danger—your home. But it's saving today that makes for security tomorrow! Yet it's fun to spend too, when spending wisely writes your name over your own door bell. Security and saving are synonymous today, and real security lies only on your own hearthstone. Put your trust in that security.

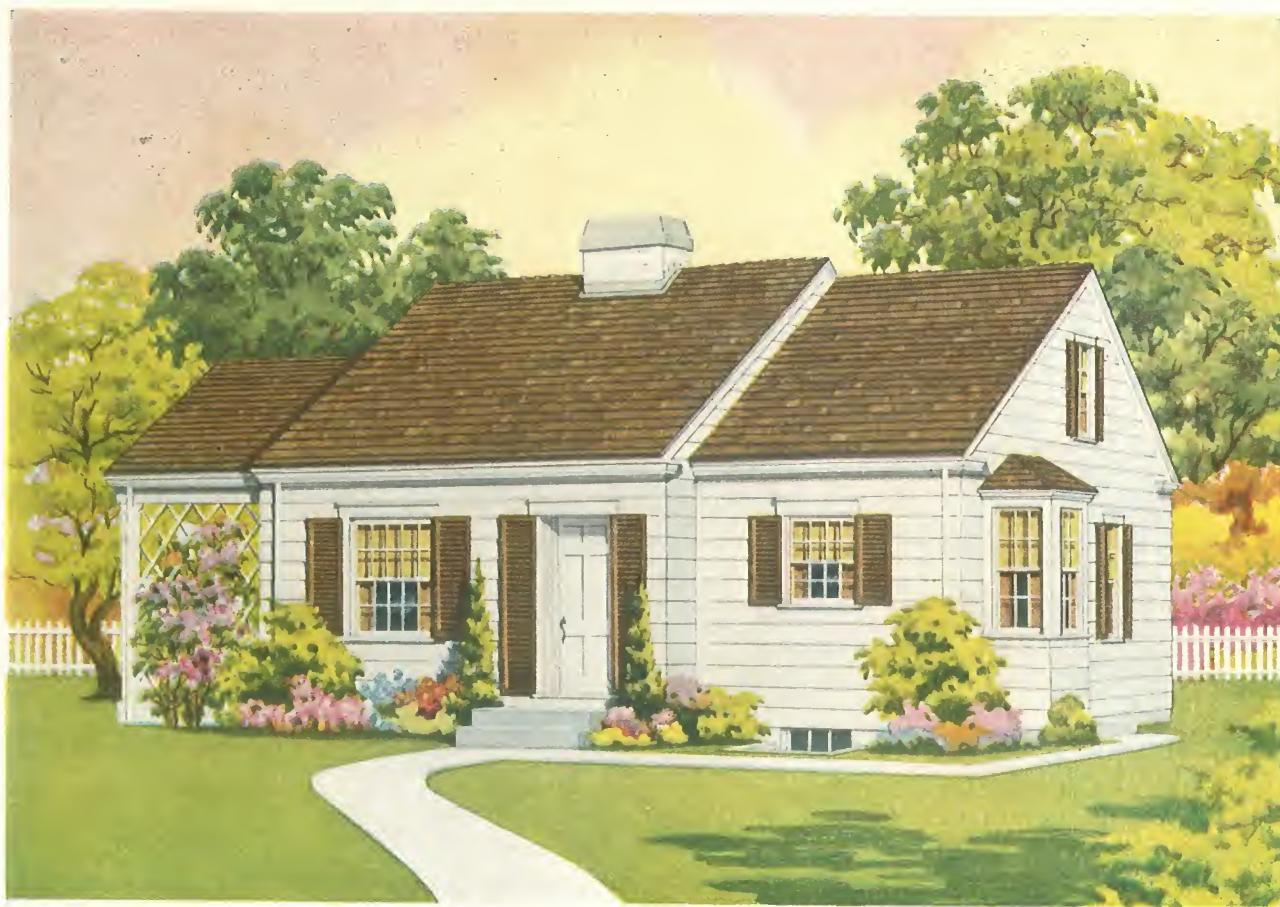

Never has this freedom-from-anxiety been so invitingly near the fingertips of every man and woman. It's waiting to rest in every hand that writes a rent check. Quietly consider the many benefits that will accrue to your family through home-ownership. More healthful and enjoyable living—plus that certain feeling of serenity that present home owners call “peace of mind.”

Yes, there's protection—positive protection, in having your own roof over your head. Don't delay what you can easily do today. Set into motion the well-oiled wheels of building your home, and enjoy for many years—the safest of all investment—a home of your own.

The Tilton

★ Although this little Cape Cod has only four rooms, five-room efficiency is apparent. The kitchen is ideally arranged with a bay window dining space and plenty of cupboards. The large porch, always a luxury in small home planning, the well-located attic stair and fireplace are features which would make this home the envy of many.

BUY YOUR HOME THROUGH EASY BUDGET FINANCING

Years ago, the cost of financing a home was nearly double the present average and it was a worrisome and cumbersome problem. But today, that condition no longer exists. In its place are liberal regulations and Federal insured mortgages where, with a very small initial investment, you can build a home that will exactly suit your tastes and family requirements and pay for it monthly with money you would otherwise use for rent. And in a few years it will be all yours, clear and free of any indebtedness.

The monthly installment plan, whereby a payment is made on the principal, interest, taxes, etc., is definitely the easiest way to purchase a home—and it is most satisfactory too because the entire mortgage is retired over a given period of years without need of costly refinancing. You will not miss the monthly payments as you do your rent payments because you are really saving money through investment in a home of your own.

Therefore, with this simple and easy budgeted financing, there never was a more ideal time to build a new home than now. We will be glad to furnish full information and offer suggestions on such financing as may be needed. Call on us at your convenience and find out how easy it is to obtain the security and protection that goes with owning your own home.
